SPEAKER

Daniel Rowlands

Manager for Fixed Plant, SIMEC Mining (formerly Arrium), part of GFG Alliance

Daniel Rowlands is the Manager for Fixed Plant with SIMEC Mining (formerly Arrium), part of GFG Alliance.

Prior to his current role he was Manager Supply Chain & Logistics for Arrium which included responsibility for port, shipping and railway operations.

Past roles include Senior Manager Analysis & Improvement with BHP in Perth, along with Senior Manager/General Manager roles at Olympic Dam.

A passionate South Australian, Daniel started his career as an Engineer in the Manufacturing industry which included working at Holden's Elizabeth Vehicle Assembly Plant before moving into the Steel industry ending up as a Maintenance Manager at the Whyalla Steelworks.

In 2017 Daniel sat on a Federal Government Department of Infrastructure and Regional Development advisory committee for regional jobs and investment and was awarded the Safety Leader of the year for GFG Alliance.

TOPIC

From Surviving to Thriving

Arrium had a challenging few years ending in Voluntary Administration in early 2016. The group was acquired in September 2017 by GFG Alliance and has ambitious plans including installing considerable dispatchable renewable energy, investing in mining and the Whyalla Steelworks along with exploring major port and infrastructure development.
